

Lord Belial, Unholy Spell Of Lilith

(Lyrics by Dark, music by Dark and Vassago)

Lilith, come forth to me as I blazon these words
... Shem Ham Forash
Come forth, I summon thee- come forth and make the angels perish, oh Lilith
-They will die crying for their god !
Shem... Ham...Forash
as I blazoned these words of Lilith the midnight skies opened in front of my eyes from the aperture in the skies a blaze of evil light was seen - it was the black light from Lilith that made the angels perish in pain In the land with the blackened winds the spirits of the feeble ones will die abandoned by their weak beliefs, they will die crying for their god they will die crying for their god in the land with the blackened winds- they will die
When the angels died blood-red tears fell from the skies screams of fear echoed in the night- when the angels died In the land with the blackened winds the spirits of the feeble ones will die abandoned by their weak beliefs- they will die
From the aperture in the skies a blaze of evil light was seen - as I blazoned these words, these words of Lilith; Shem...Ham...Forash