

Lorene Drive, A Song In The Key Of Sex

I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I feel it when you're near me
How could I ever forget you
I got a pocket full of roses
These thorns are sticking in my side
I didn't lie when I told you
I simply never ever lie
All I have are promises you gave to me
You haven't broken yet
I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
How could I ever forget you
I love the rhythm in your body
I know you love it too
I love it when you're near me
How could I ever forget you
Your best bet is some bad advice
So just paint me white because I surrender
Forever
