

Loretta Lynn, I'd Rather Be Gone

(Merle Haggard)

I feel like a stranger in this home I share with you
I can't understand this awful change you're going through
But lately I've been watchin' you grow colder every day
And I'd rather be gone than in your way
I'd rather be gone than in your way I'd rather have someone else here in my place
And if I decide on leavin' my world will end today
But I'd rather be gone than in your way
[piano]
I'd rather be gone...
