

Loretta Lynn, Leaning On Your Love

(Ben Peters)

I keep leaning on your love

[steel]

It's funny how someone depends so heavily on someone else's love to survive

Ah but that's the way I feel deep down inside of me

And you're the only reason I'm alive

Baby I'm leaning on your love the secret of happiness I found

And I'll keep leaning on your love oh on your love that makes my world go round

The flowers couldn't grow without a falling rain

Without the sun the world could not go on

And without your precious love it would all be in vain

For nothing else would matter with you gone

Baby I'm leaning...
