

Loretta Lynn, No Place Else To Go

(Shel Silverstein)

The sun goes down and you come around with evening
Saying that you love ah but I know
That it really isn't tenderness you're feelin'
You're here cause you've got no place else to go
You'll ask how I've been doin' and you'll smile that same old smile
You'll touch my cheek and turn the lights down low
We'll kiss and I'll forget for just a while
That you're here cause you've got no place else to go
Ah no place else to go and no place else to be
No one else to take you in but good old easy me
When morning comes I tell myself I'll never
Do this again but deep inside I know
I'm here because I'm bound to you forever
And you're here cause you've got no place else to go
[fiddle - steel]
I'm here because I'm bound to you forever
And you're here cause you've got no place else to go
