

Loretta Lynn, Yesterday Will Come Again Tonight

(Glenn Ray - Jeremiah Stone)

I make my way through every day just because it's there
I've learned to live without your love but I can't learn not to care
And all the hurt I left for you won't make my wrong turn right
Oh yesterday will come again tonight
Little bits and pieces that once made up our home
Come back to visit with my mind each night when I'm alone
Oh round and round my mem'ries go they're never out of sight
Oh yesterday will come again tonight
Yesterday will come again tonight just as soon as I turn out the lights
(Ah think about it baby)
My mama said the seed you sow is surely what you'll reap
Every night I find it's harvest time when I lay me down to sleep
[guitar - piano]
Oh yesterday will come again tonight...
