Lori Carson, I Want To Believe You

I want to believe you. I want to believe in us. When everything is wrong will you come through? I want to believe you. I want to believe you. I want to believe in us. When everything is wrong will you come through? will you come through? will you come through? When everything is wrong? I want to believe you. I want to believe in us. When everything is wrong will you come through? I want to believe you. I want to believe you. When everything is wrong will you come through? Will you come through? Will you come through? Will you come through?
