

Los Lobos, Little Heaven

(Cesar Rosas/Leroy Preston)

[From the Cesar Rosas album "Soul Disguise"]

I met her down in tinsel town in a flood of lights
She came on like a limousine in the star struck night
And she promised me more then she had to give away
Now she says it's all wrong and I'm the one to blame

[Chorus:]
Was it heaven?
Can't tell
A little heaven
Big hell

Yesterday she was out in the car leaning on the horn
Telling me that she cursed the day when I was born
Hard work for a woman who used to love me so
It's kinda hard to believe but that's the way love goes

[Chorus]

I'm a fool and she let me prove it
I'm alone here missing her
Don't know when this ol' heart will ever learn

She made love like an angel does when I held her near
Now there's only a ghost in my heart 'cause she disappeared
My heart says go bring her back but my mind says no
She took me high as the sky and then she just let me go

[Chorus]
