

Lostprophets, Five Is A Four Letter Word(Album Version)

You Call me a Superstar you gone have to check out the stock if you thought that i was leaving here could i find a way inside try to call it just an absence of faith

but i feel justified you can't stare through this there's nothing left in my heart but for now just too long there's no end in sight what am i for
to be hurt more
i just don't like you in yourself i cant like u
want to burn u i wish u were dead

cuz if its hard u run, now there's no fun
behind your smile forget that i was left with everything

never the same to me (x3)

never the same
its never the same

once you've played up to the end stop the noise get nowhere with your current state of mind i even wonder why you're here please stay at home killing my laughter hurting my insides you are played wot am i for

to be hurt more
i cant like you want to burn you i wish you were dead can't torch the one, now there's no fun

you can't torch the one, now there's no fun

(its how i feel yeah its how i'm made yeah....)
