

Louis XIV, Sometimes You Just Want To

You are pretentious
With the lights off
You got your paper jeans
And your tummy tuck

You use fucking as an adjective
But you can't save time in a bank for kids.

Well you won't stop talking when I'm trying to bang your friend.
But I love you so much I'll wait until the end.
You keep nagging me don't stop until you scream
'Cause lovely little girls aren't always what they seem.

Sometimes you just have to be alone
Sometimes you just have to be alone

You are pretentious
With the lights off
You got your paper jeans
And your tummy tuck

You use fucking as an adjective
But you can't save time in a bank for kids.

Sometimes you just have to be alone
Sometimes you just have to be alone

You use fucking as an adjective
But you can't save time in a bank for kids
