

Love Like Blood, Painkilling Suicide

every day was a fight against your own suicide parasites and mites suckled from the inside they always came completely mixed up always called your name, blood-suckling creatures:

we can give you something, something you always searched for we can show you something you never had before arising sensations for your flesh and blood but all these fallacies at the abyss of madness makes you see that you could also get brainless it's your decision about life and death promising something like power and strength

creatures, creatures of madness
dancing in your mind
creatures, creatures of madness
dancing in your mind,

I can give you something,
I can show you something, you never've seen before making a promise,
you never heard before
you can get something, you always waited for

urging you to a painkilling suicide
painkilling suicide
