

Lovher, Don't Leave

Don't leave, don't leave
I'll get you to see that you really belong to me

I've been looking for a rainbow
Or a cloud with a silver lining
But it seems as if I finally found it in you
But I've taken it for granted
Now I'm taken it for granted
Now I'm afraid that I could lose it
But I love you too much
To sit by and watch you leave

So I will swoop like a raven in the sky
Swallow my pride
Silver linin' rainbows pass him by
I gotta good chance to see that you really belong to me
Don't leave

Don't leave don't leave
I'll get you to see that you really belong to me
Don't leave don't leave
I'll get you to see that you really belong to me

Oh baby listen to my heartbeat

It's your love that keeps it thumpin'
It makes me wanna do
Somethin' somethin' somethin'
You got the ill fly sh
Nigga ya shit so cris
How could I let another
Hell no you must be sick
Don't leave

Don't leave don't leave
I'll get you to see that you really belong to me
Don't leave don't leave
I'll get you to see that you really belong to me

Don't leave don't leave
I'll get you to see that you really belong to me
Don't leave don't leave
I'll get you to see that you really belong to me

Don't leave don't leave
I'll get you to see that you really belong to me
Don't leave don't leave
I'll get you to see that you really belong to me
