

Lubjan, What Is Past Can Hurt No More

You shake your head you can't find me
Anywhere anywhere
You're still talking in vain here beside me
By the way by the way
You know you could be more original

You wave your hand I don't see you
Anywhere anywhere
I can hear your dull voice here beside me
Every way every day
you know you could be more original
And you could be less illogical

Please forgive if I forget you
What is past can hurt no more
Maybe you forgot to love me
What is past can hurt no more

You shake your head here beside me
By the way by the way
You're still talking in vain you can't find me
Anywhere anywhere
You know could be less illogical...so

Please forgive if I forget you
What is past can hurt no more
Maybe you forgot to love me
What is past can hurt no more

You're still talking
You're still running
You still hurt me
Then you call me

Please forgive if I forget you
What is past can hurt no more
Maybe you forgot to love me
What is past can hurt no more

No more....no more....no more...
Can hurt you no more...
No more.
