

Lucero, Crystal Blue

I see your eyes clear in my head the eyes of the girl I barely met Crystal blue, dream come true in slow motion you just walk on by Remembering now, remember how you looked at me across the room that night were strangers still despite my will you don't need her name with a smile so sweet your eyes cut deeper into me crystal blue dream come true
hell I won't be gone too long well I'm never coming back always hated saying so long well it always comes to that it's just one smile, it's just one smile it's all for you, it's all for you I see your eyes clear in my head
crystal blue saw right through in slow motion you just walked on by
