

Lucero, Heart So True

Well my heart's grown
This pair of wings
Despite all the pain that they bring
To a heart, a heart so true
Like the one in you
Now my hearts got this pair of wings
They're devilish, fool hearted things
But I once had a heart so true
Like the one in you
And I know we're still kids
But that dont change the things I did
Too many girls, more heart ache
I'm not worth it and you'll realize it
Some day down the line
Well, my hearts flyin' high off the ground
It'll surely come crashing back down
When it does, well I wont have you
And your heart so true
And I know we're still kids
But that dont change the things I did
To make your poor heart ache
I'm not worth it and you'll realize it
Some day down the line
