

Lucero, When You're Gone

she says she was going home i said 'i'll be fine by myself' and i thought that she wanted me but she was thinking something else now the sun was coming up but still i couldn't see exactly how she felt well i thought that she wanted me
and now it don't take much to see inside my heart i was never any good at telling lies and it don't take too much to see there ain't too much to me here behind these eyes i miss you when you're gone please don't stay gone too long i miss you when you're gone please don't stay gone
