

Lucie Silvas, Last Man Standing

When I feel every thing in my life's a mess
And I can't lift my head up above the rest
When all I touch I can't hold on to
Then I cover my eyes and try to picture you

Cause your belief in me's so strong
I won't give in I will carry on Cause I know you're the one

When the storm has broken you'll be waiting
When the big wave crashes you'll be swimming
When the war is over you'll be waving the flag
I know you'll be the last man standing with me

Yeah yeah

When I know in my heart I have my good and bad days
And I wish I could hide that side of me away
But you're so blind - I can do no wrong
And I try to explain where the pains come from

And I see you as my shining star
To live up to and be where you are
If I can reach that far

When the storm has broken you'll be waiting
When the big wave crashes you'll be swimming
When the war is over you'll be waving the flag
I know you'll be the last man standing with me

Never thought I'd find some one to be here with me
I have so much trust in you you're all that I see
Do you know the difference you made to who I am
I couldn't find a better man
You showed me how to understand

When the storm has broken you'll be waiting
When the big wave crashes you'll be swimming
When the war is over you'll be waving the flag
I know you'll be the last man standing with me

You and me
Oh you and me
Oh oh you and me
