

Lucie Silvas, Twisting The Chain

I can see you're hurting,
You wear it like a coat of amour,
You closed your eyes and chose your battleground,
And there's no way through you
Cause I'm still over here and you're still over there.

You're pulling me to you, where you wanna be...

[Chorus:]

You're twisting the chain
And I'm right there with you, I can match your pain,
You're twisting the chain
Do I run back to you or run away again?

You think it doesn't matter,
You're gonna hurt yourself before I do,
You're aiming at me, I'll throw it back to you
And I feel I'm losing
Cause I'm still over here and you're still over there.

[Repeat Bridge and Chorus]

What ever you think, what ever you say...
Nothing you do could ever push me away [x2]

I'm trying hard to break down the walls
You never let me get to the core
You know I'm not the enemy
So take these chains away from me...

[Chorus]
