

Luckdown, One Fine Line

(i scream when you're away from me)
this is me, and i've lost all that i've gained,
all the work, sweat and tears, through toil and pain.
i'll never play this song again.

confidence doesn't coincide,
with the life i live, the true one inside.
and the life i live is a give or a take,
i'll take what is given,
i'll give feeling that's fake .

(i scream when you're away from me)
this is me, and i've lost all that i've gained,
all the work, sweat and tears, through toil and pain.
i'll never play this song again.

your black heart is shining red,
and it's obvious.
it's obvious to me,
if you read between the lines.

(i scream when you're away from me)
this is me, and i've lost all that i've gained,
all the work, sweat and tears, through toil and pain.
i'll never play this song.

your black heart is shining red
and it's obvious
it's obvious to me
(read) if you read between the lines
(read) read between the lines