

Lucky Twice, This Song

You made the day break, you made my legs shake so bad
Once in a lifetime, you brought the sunshine and left me
But, baby, tell me where I went wrong
Why are you so impossible
Now I wrote this song
I'm hoping it makes you mine
I never knew that you had a heart wrapped in stone
I loved the danger, now you're the stranger who kissed me
But, baby, tell me where I went wrong
Why are you so impossible
Now I wrote this song
I'm hoping it makes you mine
It's too late for lame excuses
Gonna have to live with all the pain
Cause when dreams are torn apart
It leaves you breathless
And nothing is ever the same
But, baby, tell me where I went wrong
Why are you so impossible
Now I wrote this song
I'm hoping it makes you mine
