Lucky Twice, This Song

You made the day break, you made my legs shake so bad Once in a lifetime, you brought the sunshine and left me But, baby, tell me where I went wrong Why are you so impossible Now I wrote this song I'm hoping it makes you mine I never knew that you had a heart wrapped in stone I loved the danger, now you're the stranger who kissed me But, baby, tell me where I went wrong Why are you so impossible Now I wrote this song I'm hoping it makes you mine It's too late for lame excuses Gonna have to live with all the pain Cause when dreams are torn apart It leaves you breathless And nothing is ever the same But, baby, tell me where I went wrong Why are you so impossible Now I wrote this song I'm hoping it makes you mine