

Lucy Loone, Sugarcane

I was a flame in the water
I would've done anything
To stay alive never falter
You're a stickyness in my brain
Heart and soul
You should know
I've never known a sweeter taste
Let it grow
Into more
I'll never be same

My sugar cane
Sugar came
Now I'll never be the same
How this goes
I don't know
We'll have to wait and see
See
What you mean
You mean to me
I'd never be the same
My sugar cane
sugar cane

And as the embers fall down
Destruction felt oh so sound
Cause I had you to hold me if I was falling
Being in a safe space
I feel so warm darling (warm)

I should be more careful
I'm so scared of love
But you touch me so softly
And it feels just like a golden glove
I'm so cold
But you do it so easily
warm me up no freezing me
Don't drive me away

I was a flame in the water
I would've done anything
To stay alive never falter
You're a stickyness in my brain

My sugar cane
Sugar came
Now I'll never be the same
How this goes
I don't know
We'll have to wait and see
See
What you mean
You mean to me
I'd never be the same
My sugar cane
sugar cane