

Lucy Street, I'll Be The Girl

I'll be the girl

Here we are alone again
Out of love and full of pain
Tell me boy where we went wrong
Cause with me is where you belong
Yes I believe in you and me
Just give me time to prove it
Yes I will do anything for you
Just tell me what you want baby

And I will be the girl that holds you
When you're sad and lost
Bring you to a brighter place
No matter what it costs
I promise I will say those words
You love to hear
Oh baby I'll be the girl

There you go (there you go) you running again
It's not your fault and no one's to blame (and no one's to blame)
You need me boy to hold you close
I won't let go when you need me the most
Yes you and me are meant to be
Just give me time to prove it
Come to me and I will make you see
I'll tell you what we need baby

And I will be the girl that holds you
When you're sad and lost
Bring you to a brighter place
No matter what it costs
I promise I will say those words
You love to hear
Oh baby (oh baby) I'll be the girl

Be the girl that holds you
When you're sad and lost
(When you're sad and lost)
Bring you to a brighter place
No matter what it costs
I promise I will say those words
You love to hear
Oh baby I'll be the girl

I sit alone and wonder why
All you have to do is try
You hunger for my touch
You need it so much

And I will be the girl that holds you
When you're sad and lost
(When you're sad and lost)
Bring you to a brighter place
No matter what it costs
(No matter what it costs)
I promise I will say those words
You love to hear
Oh baby (oh baby) I'll be the girl

I'll be the girl
I'll be your world
I promise I will say those words
You love to hear

I promise I will say those words
You love to hear
Oh baby I'll be the girl
