

Lucy Walsh, So Uncool

I gave him half my heart 'cause i didn't wanna jump in from the start so i said go on and do your own thing, and i will do my own thing i suggest we keep it safe, i meant it at the time but things have changed 'cause now im out here screening your calls, asking whos the girl in your car see me looking at diamond rings, staying at your house now every week im trying to be your main squeeze, 'cause ive got what you need now i've grown too far from the tree, and i'm not liking this new me 'cause i've been crazr for you, crazy for you, crazy for you lately

CHORUS: Love, love, love, love, love look at what you do, do, do, do, do man you've got me so uncool im talking so uncool, im looking so uncool, im acting so uncool you dont like my attitude, the girl you met was so damn cool but now when you go do your own thing i make it feel so damn strange and im always mad about something, something always talk about nothing, nothing i just wanna be the one you need, never happy when you're far from me used to be the girl that brought a smile to your face and now im so selfish i cry just to make you stay used to be so cool, love look what you made me do now im crazy for you, crazy for you, crazy for you lately

CHORUS

s-o-u-n-c-o-o-l ive got him mad, mad as hell

everytime i think about it i cant help it that he wants to run away from here i used to be the girl that he needed now he's avoiding me its not a secret im getting on his nerve, on his last nerve
