

Luisa Fernandez, We All Love You

Mystery and a touch of fantasy belong to your destiny
the world is at your feet children idolize the things you do fighting bad and always true you make our lives complete.

Fly
fly
high
high
way across the skies
we all need you
Superman
fly
fly
high
high
can't believe our eyes
we all love you
Superman.

People staring as you sail on by looking up into the sky not believing what they see we know
the magic that your power show we'd like to join you as you go but it could never be.

Fly
fly
high
high...
