

Luiza Staniec, You May Be My Baby

I don't ask myself, I don't ask any more
What I should do when darkness call.
I don't know when, I don't know how
This happened in my life but now
I am thinking of?

You may be my baby, you may be mine?
You may be my baby, you may be mine, yay?

I won't say no, I won't say yes
That everything here is ok (ok, ok, ok?)
But I won't break, I still want to take
Those things that make me feel so great
And I am thinking of, thinking of?

You may be my baby, you may be mine?
You may be my baby, you may be mine, yay?

But please don't get me wrong
I am as smart as I'm strong
So I can tell you now?

You may be my baby, you may be mine?
You may be my baby, you may be my baby

You may be my baby, you may be mine?
You may be my baby, you may be mine, yay?
