Luka Bloom, Love Is A Place I Dream Of

Love is a place I dream of A face that never leaves my mind Sorrow is over my shoulder But it's over

Someday I will cross the world for you No matter how far Just to be there Someday I will hold you in my arms So special you are Wait and see my love, set you free

Love is a place I dream of I hear you cry so far away There is a bridge I'm building Take me to the one I love someday

Someday I will cross the world for you No matter how far Just to be there Someday I will hold you in my arms So special you are Wait and see my love, set you free

I'm coming home child
