

Luka Bloom, Perfect Groove

I'm looking for the perfect groove
I'm getting ready to move
So much rhythm to choose
I want to sing for you
I'm looking for the perfect tune
So perfect I could swoon
Dance like honeymoon
I want to sing for you

I love it when different people
Come and gather around
They dip into a different world
There's a singer in town
I love to see the bodies swaying
Hips shifting along
Together we'll find the rhythm
Get into the song
The night could be long

I'm looking for the perfect food
Not undercooked or stewed
A tasty little mood
I want to sing for you
I'm looking for the perfect you
And a love that's simple and true
It's what I'm ready to do
I want to sing for you
