

Luke Evans, Horizons Blue

First date hotel
Two stools by the bar
In that moment
You knew you made your mark

Day two sleep late
Waking to see your face
Coffee cigar smoke, my finger takes a trace
Your eyebrows, your cheekbones
Your lips and your jaw
Knowing deep down we both wanted more...

In that moment we were chosen and we knew
We decided our horizons should be blue
Anywhere that you will go
I will go there too
In that moment I was chosen to fall in love with you
(To fall in love with you)

Freeways, runways, Everglades to Buenos Aires
Straight speakers, thrill seekers
We both go
Climbing on mountains and sleeping outdoors
Hiding beneath waterfalls

In that moment we were chosen and we knew
We decided our horizons should be blue
Anywhere that you will go
I will go there too
In that moment I was chosen to fall in love with you
(To fall in love with you)

The photo on my fridge, just one look and gets me through My favorite song it plays to see your face, our heart is blue

In that moment we were chosen and we knew
We decided our horizons would be blue
(It would be blue)
Anywhere that you will go
I will go there too
In that moment I was chosen to fall in love with you
To fall in love with you
To fall in love with you
