Lullacry, Crucify My Heart Pt. II (Piano Version)

My hopes were running high Left me like a morning tide Everything I do is up to you How can I still pretend All the good things must end Emotions are so easy to crush Like a junkie I traded everything for love You were all I ever wanted Right from the start You were all I ever needed Crucify my heart The tide has turned now See my dreams drown Nothing new under this hollow sun The stillness of the night Only thing holding me tight Emotions are so easy to crush Like a junkie I traded everything for love You were all I ever wanted Right from the start You were all I ever needed But you crucified my heart Crucify my heart
