

Lullacry, Don't Touch The Flame

I wish you well
hope you understand
if I could only tell

the choice you have to make a beggar or the throne
but please don't

touch the flame that burns inside it will keep you safe and alive this empty memory lane
is filled with the touch of a flame

who am I
ever to judge you
repeat the fears

can you feel it
feel it on your skin

open up your soul and let love in but please don't touch the flame
