

Luna, Alive

Like a stormy night
In the summer season
Like a drop of rain
Falling in the deep end, the deep end

I've been losing my voice
When I try to drown out the demons
And I should let go
Everybody I know, believe me, believe me

Guess it's hard to feel alive
When you're living in your mind
I don't want to stay inside
Tonight, tonight, tonight
I'm a stranger to the street
When my chest can barely breathe
Guess it's hard to feel alive
Alive, alive so pull me out

It's like I'm daydreaming in a nightmare
I see the danger but I don't know if I'm scared
Like a second skin that you can't tear
So far away I'm so far away

From the ones that I know
I've been hiding me like a secret
I don't want to let go
'Cause I'm scared that you won't believe me, believe me

Guess it's hard to feel alive
When you're living in your mind
I don't want to stay inside
Tonight, tonight, tonight
I'm a stranger to the street
When my chest can barely breathe
Guess it's hard to feel alive
Alive, alive so pull me out

Wipe my eyes
Hold me steady, hold me tight
Let me out
To feel the ground, what it means to be alive

Guess it's hard to feel alive
When you're living in your mind
I don't want to stay inside
Tonight, tonight
