

Luna Halo, World On Fire

We were constructed the perfect post production you were made from alien hands the lust of every man and we've hated evolution the problem and solution you taught the serpent how to dance you're the silent of romance and I say..

hey hey, the end is coming what would you leave me wanting bombs are raining from the sky but even when the world's on fire I won't stop to watch it burning
I can't bear to take my eyes off you

Venus in motion the poison and the potion you string me out like winter lights you kill me every time

and I say...
what would you leave me wanting
but even when the world's on fire
I won't stop to watch it burning
I can't bear to take my eyes off you

oh how i love to watch you dance to a military band as we're waiting on a ferry and i will always be the one who stays

and I say...
what would you leave me wanting
but even when the world's on fire
I won't stop to watch it burning
I can't bear to take my eyes off you
