

Lunarin, The Tower

I lost my voice
Trapped in these four walls
Giving in to what we've become
I found my strength
Locked in a trinity
And all these deeds
Can't be undone
You said I never forget you'
You lied I never return'
In truth
Things were not meant to be broken

The hole it drinks right from my soul
The whole it grows just ebb and let it flow
We've seen this all too well
It echoes in time
Too late to show you the door out in kindness so

It's complicated we hid you from the truth
It's complicated all words fail so what's the truth ?
It's complicated the faultline runs with you
It's complicated so we hid you from the truth

Seven years can't be that long
Look in the mirror now
Search for the truth
Forgive me , Forgive me'

You'll think we'll owe you these words
Maybe we will
Maybe we will
But maybe we'll forget

Piece by piece
We built it up and we can tear it down
As the waters break and bleed
The whole can be found
Even as we flow you're not the only sound
Now all we want is to bring the tower down
