

Lunic, Open Your Eyes

there's something in the way you look at me a part of you you don't want me to see distracted by the voices in your head you keep it cold you'll never know you're numb
all i wanna do is set you free but i can't seem to make you run to me and i can't hold back and i can't let go cause you make me feel alive open your eyes there's something in the way that you can't see the part of you attached to part of me the life you choose to live with eyes closed you think it works cause it doesn't hurt but it doesn't hurt cause you're numb
all i wanna do is set you free
but i can't seem to make you run to me i can't hold back and i can't let go cause you make me feel alive
open your eyes
