

Lunic, Yellow Rose

yellow rose I swallowed, pit of my stomach churning choked on another I told you so, rage within me burning petals heavy as led, outside in i'm stained regurgitating faith, yellow coursing through my veins there's no cure for deception what's done is done, another re-run

there's no cure for deception I am gone, you have won familiar taste encompassing all I once knew he loves me he loves me not, robbed of all I held true inner strength escapes me, deflated disaster I am remnants of who I once was slowly seep through my skin

there's no cure for deception
what's done is done, you better run
there's no cure for deception so un-fun, you are now no one yes yellow rose I swallowed but you can't blame me for on the art of being deceived i've had years of training blind gluttony immobilized, punishment I don't deserve yellow breath rank bellows, tiny woman-vision blurred yellow rose I swallowed, pit of my stomach churning
