

Lunik, Candle

the night was long
the candle's out and now you wrap yourself around me and tell me I'm the one for you it's been a long time we're standing strong such a long time we're going on we can beat everything I feel it right now:

together we can be stronger than anyone and by myself I know it has to be the way it is together - you and me my hope is fading slowly away so I wrap myself around me knowing you're the one for me it's been a long time, I wait for you such a long time, I dream of you being here with me I was so sure - what if I was wrong?

together we could be stronger than anyone and by myself I was always sure that we should be together you and me dreaming all day long you're too perfect to be real did I just make you up how I wished you to be? dreaming with the curtains closed between shades and candlelight was it all just in my mind and now I'm losing it? but I can smell you and I see your footsteps the trace goes right through the middle of my heart now maybe we're apart but one day we'll be together you and me
