

Lycia, The New Day

the haze fades
she speaks in tongues of brighter days i sink back
i'm so afraid in every way the past fades
she sings the song of brighter days i reach out
she takes me in to brighter days and i can feel, again, no for the first time our souls embrace, my heart beats for the first time grey days are gone, my heart sings for the first time the sun beats down on me, no for the first time the brand new day is here i will never leave you
i will always love you
just take my hand and stay with me forever
