

Lynn Anderson, Full House

Tonight you're down at Charlie's Place again
But it's not drinkins or company that you seek
Cause Charlie has a card game in the backroom
I knew you've been playin' poker there all week
Right now I bet you're drawin' to a streight three over kind two paris then one pat
But if it's a full house that's you're looking for Then come on home cause this is where it's at
Yes there's a full house right here at home a wife and children you've rest all alone
So if a broken heart is a more than a dime then come on home you got five of a kind [ steel ]
If you could only see their little faces you'd hury home before the next hand starts
You're sittin' down at Charlie's holdin' aces
While here at home we're holdin' broken hearts
Yes there's a full house...
Then come on home you got five of a kind
