

Lynn Anderson, Wave Bye Bye To The Man

See the man at the door the one who made us cry
He won't anymore for we'll be gone bye bye
My little one you see he don't love you and me
So raise your little hand and wave bye bye to the man
He's the man who stays gone more than he stays at home
The man you call dad the one you'll never had
The real daddy you know would never let us part
He'd hold us here with love that comes straight from his heart
But this one doesn't care he just keeps standin' there
So raise your little hand and wave bye bye to the man
[ steel ]
He's the man who stays gone...
So raise your little hand and wave bye bye to the man
Wave bye bye to the man wave bye bye to the man wave bye bye to the man
