

Machinae Supremacy, Beyond Good and Evil

I was at a crossroads, and I was done
But seems as though I still stand second to none even now

Fought my fate and it set me free with nought but darkness in heart Mark this day and what I decree I will show the world who we are

I have this soul now inside me I need to

I have been asleep for so long for so long Whatever happened?
Now the world is coming down around me Brought back to life again by allies of days gone by Whatever was is now a lie a lie

I was always faster than everyone
I don't need a weapon, don't need my gun
(to) show you how

I'm trying to hang on My soul is weak but I will be strong
We are all where we belong
And I need you all to be right here with me

Don't want these final days of mine to have meant nothing and if I should die at least I died for something Don't want these final days of mine to all go wasted
I will no longer stay in line
