

Machine Gun Kelly, last november

You didn't wake up today
I didn't get to see your face
Was it my fault?
Was it karma?
Was your fate in the hands of my conscious?
Cause you didn't wake up today (yeah)

So sad we ended up here
So sad but everything's clear
Could I save your life if I pressed rewind?
I wish I could go back to November last year

One day in another ten weeks (One day in another ten weeks)
I never even got to hear your heartbeat (Never even got to hear your heartbeat)
Last year feels like a past life (Last year feels like a past life)
We said forever on the very first night (yeah)

So sad we ended up here
So sad but everything's clear
Could I save your life if I pressed rewind?
I wish I could go back to November last year

Obviously
I never wanted to write this song
Promising me
When the stars shine bright you'll take a
Comet to me
To show me you're still there
Eternally

So sad we ended up here
So sad but everything's clear
Tell me could I save your life if I pressed rewind?
I wish I could go back to November last year
(When it was still so beautiful)
It was so damn beautiful
So damn beautiful
