

Machine Gun Kelly, More Than Life

I fill my lungs cause my heart's made of concrete
I looked to God even he doesn't want me
I grind my teeth in my sleep cause of bad dreams
Try to live my life but this ecstasy's inside me, damn
I can't wake up happy
I just took a knife to the strings that attach me
Every day's passing
Everyone's laughing
JFK,
they might find my brains in the backseat

I'm trying my best not to
Open up my heart it's been
Torn apart too many times
But without you I'd die
And I don't want to die
Not today not tomorrow not tonight
I don't want to die
I need you I need you more than life
More than life more than life more than life

Haha, sorry shit didn't work out

She's a pretty little liar
Over analyzer
Fell in love with you
And I don't mind it
But I know baby
This won't go how we expected
But when I told you that I fucking love you shit I meant it

She's doing coke in the bathroom
When did I ask you
Stuck in a bad mood
Slipped and I passed you
Fuck I'm a bad dude Guess you're attached to me
Yeah I guess you're attached to me

I'm trying my best not to
Open up my heart it's been
Torn apart too many times
But without you I'd die
And I don't want to die
Not today not tomorrow not tonight
I don't want to die
I need you I need you more than life
More than life more than life more than life

I need you I need you yeah
I need you I need you yeah

What's the point of living
I heard death was easier
I fell in love but I'm scared I won't keep her
What's the point of living
I looked over my shoulder and see the reaper

I'm trying my best not to

Not today not tomorrow not tonight
I don't want to die
I need you I need you more than life
