Machine Head, Days Turn Blue To Gray

Thou have fathered Son and daughter Doth begat, yet raised not bother Paralyzed your children's lives Wither vines of family ties

Self-destruction
Make him function
Crayons and clay
Days turn blue to gray
Days turn blue to gray

Seventeen when
Family begin
Drinking, fighting, heroin
Unquenchable addictions call
Responsible to none above all

Self-destruction
Make him function
Crayons and clay
Days turn blue to gray
Days turn blue to gray

Lest I taste Its sweet grapes Glass to tongue Across it tips Cross my lips Swallow it down

Please
Won't you love me?
Please help me see
What did I do?
Did I hurt you?
And now that you're gone
Emptiness lives on
The guilt is all I feel
No closure

Father Motherfucker No closure

The strings of my heart You pulled on endlessly This twine is severed In tragedy

Father Mother Destroyer Destroy her

[Solo: Demmel]

Your self-destruction What made you feel alive Your self-destruction Of your children's Lives
