

Mad At The World, No Room Left

Now, you're filled with information
Passes an educated mind
Are you a living demonstration
Of how a human can be blind?

CHORUS

There's no room left for God in your mind
There's no room left for God in your mind

You tell yourself you're so romantic
And your heart only beats for love
You pour your life into emotion
But is it all you can think of?
'Cause it leaves you

CHORUS

BRIDGE

Throw away grace in your own pleasure chase
Your spirit wants more
But can't even notice
That you locked the door
Heaven is calling and you look away
But when you're alone with your Feet at His throne
Tell me, who can you blame?

When I see the social decay
Morality has fallen down
I pray for people who are willing
To not betray what they have found
Otherwise there's gonna be
