

Mad Caddies, Macho Nachos

Let's go!
Lost sight of all you dreamed of The force that swept you away
The leaves were changing and the tree was rearranging
The season had swallowed the day
You want everything Unfair it may seem
Your eyes have been closed for so long
We tried to make the break
What about give and take Some times will come when you are wrong
I sense the new day has fallen
I see the trouble in your eyes
The tree will fall
I'm not crying at all, it's no suprise

Your jaded eyes

I hope you found the road you wanted
I could not find the words to say the lies were spoken and the promises broken a wave of illusion dismay
you want everything
unfair it may seem your will has been gone for so long we tried to make a break what about give & take the rights not outweighing the wrong
