

Madison, Give Up The Ghost

Heart sinks, how deep
Ten thousand feet deep in the concrete
As I walk by your house
Stare at your window
(See the shadows)
Light beats in the moonlight
What does this bring about

He swears, he keeps her heart on his shoulder
But what's on the other side
She knows, this might be her last chance to decide

What ever happened to the place
Where we can go to share our thoughts
We used to leave on Saturdays
And not come home 'til twelve

So take your time, and realize what you do to me
We all know its just lies
Take our trip to the other side
I'm bleeding fast, so pull this knife, you put through me

He swears, he keeps on his heart on her shoulder
But what's on the other side
She knows, every night, her last chance to decide
He swears, but what's on the other side
She knows, every night, her last chance to decide
