

Madita, A Letter To You

Some things going wrong
For so long, wrong direction
You caught me so strong
Once upon with self-reflection

But I feel so alone, in my home, in my role
No wonder you go when I want you so strong

Something must be done
One by one new obsession
But keep yourself calm
Ask your mum with no protection

But I feel so alone, in my home, in my role
No wonder you go when I want you so strong
