

Madrigal, Same Face

spending all my time
trying to prove to myself you're not as hollow as you seem...

suffering and love seem to have the same face
same face...

wasting all my love
trying to make you feel trying to make you believe what your fading eyes can't see leading this soul towards the end ominous like a disease ghastly thoughts seem paltry

same face...

for me...
for you...
