

Maggie Reilly, Stolen Heart

I was always cool and carefree with my heart
And you could see that it was open from the start
There was never any reason to beware
Me and Miss Red Riding Hood, we made a perfect pair

You were looking for diversion of the kind
Just a little fun until you change your mind
Such a minus sometime loved you from the first
It only took one word to make the bubble burst

Gonna change the lives
Gonna change my number
I return your letters
Better that you know
That you can run around, just break it
And you've got to learn
And I won't let you sleep at night
Until you can return my stolen heart

I was always taught to turn the other cheek
Still you rob me blind and now I've got to speak
You crept in because I looked the other way
And now I've learnt my lesson starting from today

Gonna change the lives
Gonna change my number
I'll return your letters
Better that you know
That you can run around, just steal it
Know the things you left
And I won't let you sleep at night
Until you bring it back, my stolen heart

Gonna change the lives
Gonna change my number
I return your letters
Better that you know
That you can run around, just break it
And you've got to learn
And I won't let you sleep at night
Until you can return my stolen heart

Gonna change the lives
Bring it back, bring it back now
Gonna change my number
My stolen heart
